THE REDUCTION OF TELGRAPH

RATES IN THE EAST. At a meeting of the Bristol Chamber of Commerce the other week, a letter was read ! from the London Chamber of Commerce res pecting the cost of telegrams between this country, India, and the East, and the desirability of the existing tariffs being reduced. It was submitted that the lines could carry a much larger number of messages than they do at present, and that a reduction of the tariffs would assuredly be a considerable increase in the traffic. Various other statements were made, after which Mr T. T. Linleat moved, Mr J. Holman seconded, and it was resolved to cooperate in such measures as might be found desirable to secure an adequate reduction in the rates, and to bring forward the same at the International Telegraph Conference to be

Many of the German officers who were engaged some time ago for service at Nanthis latest effort to raise a Chinese Army on foreign-lines, has turned out a complete the only difficulty that has led to their kicking over the traces in this manner, Their classification while in Nanking led to the most serious discontent, and some of They were not authorised to lead the troops in time of war, but were engaged simply to act as instructors in times of peace. Since Chang Chib-tang has learn. ed that he is to return to Wuchang sll the money that was set aside for the raising of the Nanking army and which has been diverted to Chang's ether little schemes in the cotton mill and iron works lines, in which Chang can employ it for more profitably than in paying i away every month to sixty foreigners or so, who took good care to see it was forthcoming when it was due, none of the agreements made with the Viceroy are worth the paper they are written on, as the English and other foreigners who served the Chinese during the war have very good resson to know; and the German officers, who now see that service with the Chinese is not all they had expected, might have been propared for what has happened by English and American predecessors in the fleet and at Nanking and Kiangyin, who had helped China faithfully in her time of difficulty, were cast aside when their angrateful employers thought they were no longer necessary. - China Gozette.
